

HUMOUR FEBRUARY 2013

50 SHEDS OF GRAY

The novel "Fifty Shades of Grey" has seduced women - and baffled blokes. Now in a candid and confronting style the author Colin Grey recounts his love encounters at the bottom of the garden. Here are a few selected extracts...

We tried various positions - round the back, on the side, up against a wall. But in the end we came to the conclusion the bottom of the garden was the only place for a good shed.

Ever since she read THAT book, I've had to buy all kinds of ropes, chains and shackles. But she still manages to get into the shed.

"Put on this rubber suit and mask," I instructed, calmly. "Mmmm, this really is kinky!" she purred. "Yes," I said, "You can't be too careful with all that asbestos in the shed roof."

"Harder!" she cried, gripping the workbench tightly. "Harder!" "Okay," I said. "What's the gross national product of Nicaragua?"

I lay back exhausted, gazing happily out of the shed window. Despite my concerns about my inexperience, my rhubarb and cucumbers were growing beautifully.

"Are you sure you can take the pain?" she demanded, brandishing the new stilettos. "I think so," I gulped. "Here we go, then," she said, and showed me the credit card receipt.

"Hurt me, really hurt me!" she begged, raising her skirt as she bent over my workbench. "Very well," I replied. "You've got a big bum, fat ankles and no dress sense."

NEIL ARMSTRONG

On July 20, 1969, as commander of the Apollo lunar module, Neil Armstrong was the first person to set foot on the moon.

His first words after stepping on the moon, "that's one small step for man, one giant leap for mankind," were televised to earth and heard by millions.

But just before he re-entered the module, he made the enigmatic remark - "good luck, Mr. Gorsky."

Many people at NASA thought it was a casual remark concerning some rival Soviet cosmonaut. However, upon checking, there was no Gorsky in any of the Russian or American space programs .

Over the years, many people questioned Armstrong as to what the - 'Good luck, Mr. Gorsky' statement meant, but Armstrong always just smiled.

On July 5, 1995, in Tampa Bay Florida while answering questions following a speech, a reporter brought up the 26-year-old question about Mr. Gorsky.

This time he finally responded because Mr. Gorsky had died, so Neil Armstrong felt he could now answer the question.

Here is the answer to "Who was Mr. Gorsky":

In 1938, when he was a kid in a small mid-western town , he was playing with a friend in the backyard his friend hit a ball, which landed in his neighbor's yard, by their bedroom window.

His neighbors were Mr. and Mrs. Gorsky. As he leaned down to pick up the ball young Armstrong heard Mrs. Gorsky shouting at Mr. Gorsky, “Sex! You want sex! You'll get sex when the kid next door walks on the moon!”

Neil Armstrong's family confirmed this to be a true story.

AN IRISH BLONDE

A very attractive blonde from Cork in Ireland arrived at the casino. She seemed rather intoxicated as she leaned forward to place a twenty thousand dollar bet on a single roll of the dice.

She said “I hope you don't mind but I feel luckier when I am in the nude”

With that she stripped completely, rolled the dice and yelled " Come on, baby, come on, Mama needs new clothes!"

When the dice came to a stop she jumped up and down and squealed, "Yes, Yes, I won! I won!" She hugged each of the dealers, picked up her winnings and her clothes and quickly departed.

The dealers stared at each other dumbfounded. Finally, one of them asked, "What did she roll?" The other one answered, "I don't know, I thought you were watching"

Moral of the story - not all Irish are drunks, not all blondes are dumb, But men are men!

TESTS OR TESTES?

A man is lying in bed in the hospital with an oxygen mask over his mouth. A young graduate nurse comes in to sponge his hands and feet.

"Nurse", he mumbles from behind the mask "are my testicles black?" Embarrassed, the young nurse replies, "I don't know, I am only here to wash your hands and feet."

He struggles again to ask "Nurse, are my testicles black?"

Finally she pulls back the covers, raises his gown, and with his penis in one hand and his testicles in the other hand takes a close look and says, " Relax, there's nothing wrong with them!"

The man pulls off his oxygen mask and replies, "Thank you nurse, that was very nice, but are my test results back?"

COLD MORNING

A cold winter's morning — wife texts her husband "Windows frozen" Husband texts back "Pour lukewarm water over it "

Five minutes later wife texts "Computer completely stuffed now”.

IS GOD IN CANBERRA?

A little boy wanted $100.00 very badly and prayed for weeks, but nothing happened.

Then he decided to write God a letter requesting the $100.00.

When the postal authorities received the letter addressed to "God, Australia" One of the workers decided to send it to the Prime Minister.

It reached the desk of Miss Gillard who was so amused that she instructed her secretary to send the little boy a $ 5.00 note. She thought this would appear to be a lot of money to a little boy.

The little boy was delighted with the $5.00 note and sat down to write a thank-you note to God, which read:

“Dear God:

Thank you very much for sending the money. However, I noticed that for some reason you sent it through Canberra and those unchristian scumbags deducted $95.00 in taxes”.
