

WHERE DO RED-HEADED BABIES COME FROM?

After their baby was born, the panicked father went to see the Obstetrician.

'Doctor,' the man said, 'I don't mind telling you, but I'm a little upset because my daughter has red hair. She can't possibly be mine!!'

'Nonsense,' the doctor said...'Even though you and your wife both have black hair, one of your ancestors may have contributed red hair to the gene pool.'

'It isn't possible,' the man insisted. 'This can't be, we are old established British stock and our families on both sides have had jet-black hair for generations.'

"Well, said the doctor, let me ask you this:

How often do you have sex?"

The man seemed a bit embarrassed and said 'I've been working very hard for the past year. We only made love once or twice every few months.'

The doctor nodded sagely, patted the new father on the shoulder and said quietly,

"Well there you have it - it's rust !

INDIAN MATING CALL

Two Red Indians and an Irishman were walking through the woods.

All of a sudden one of the Red Indians ran up a hill to the mouth of a small cave.

'Woohooo! Woohooo! Woohooo!' he called into the cave and listened closely until he heard an answering, 'Woohooo! Woohooo! Woohoooo! He then tore off his clothes and ran into the cave.

The Irishman was puzzled and asked the remaining Indian what it was all about. 'Was the other Indian crazy or what?'¹

The Indian replied 'No, It is our custom during mating season, when Indian men see a cave, they holler 'Woohooo! Woohooo! Woohooo!' into the opening. If they get an answer back, it means there's a beautiful squaw in there waiting.

Just then they came upon another cave. The second Indian ran up to the cave, stopped, and hollered, 'Woohooo! Woohooo! Woohooo!'

Immediately, there was the answer. 'Woohooo! Woohooo! Woohooo!' from deep inside.

He also tore off his clothes and ran into the opening.

The Irishman wandered around in the woods alone for a while, and then spied a third large cave. As he looked in amazement at the size of the huge opening, he was thinking, Wow man! Look at the size of this cave! It is bigger than those the Indians found. There must be several really big, fine women in this cave!

He stood in front of the opening, beating his chest and hollered with all his might 'Woohooo! Woohooo! Woohooo!' Like the others, he then heard an answering call, 'Woohooo! Woohoo ! Woohooo.

With a gleam in his eye and grinning from ear to ear, he raced into the cave, tearing off his clothes as he ran - straight into the path of an oncoming steam locomotive.

MUSIC IN THE CEMETERY

A tourist in Vienna is going through a graveyard and suddenly he hears some music. No one is around, so he starts searching for the source. He finally locates the origin and finds it is coming from a grave with a headstone that reads 'Ludwig van Beethoven, 1770-1827'. Then he realises that the music is the Ninth Symphony and it is being played backwards! Puzzled, he leaves the graveyard and persuades a friend to return with him.

By the time they arrive back at the grave, the music has changed. This time it is the Seventh Symphony, and like the previous piece, it is also being played backwards. Curious, the men agree to consult a music scholar. When they return with the expert, the Fifth Symphony is playing, again backwards. The expert notices that the symphonies are being played in the reverse order in which they were composed: the Ninth, then the Seventh, then the Fifth. By the next day the word has spread and a crowd have gathered around the grave. They are all listening to the Second Symphony being played backwards.

Just then the graveyard's caretaker ambles up to the group. Someone in the group asks if he has any explanation for the music. 'I would have thought it was obvious,' the caretaker says incredulously. 'He's decomposing.'
