

HUMOUR NOVEMBER 2014

MEDICAL TERMINOLOGY

A young woman called at a hospital information desk and asked to see the upturn.

"I think you mean intern, don't you?" asks the duty nurse.

"Yes, I guess so," she replies. "I want a contamination."

"You mean 'examination'?"

"I suppose. Anyway, I want to go to the fraternity ward."

"I'm sure you mean the maternity ward .. ?"

"Probably. Upturn, intern, contamination, examination, fraternity, maternity - what the hell's the difference? All I know is that I haven't demonstrated for two months, and I think I'm stagnant."

CREATIVE PHARMACIES

A pharmacist walked into his shop to find a rather distressed man leaning against the wall.

"What's wrong with him?" he asked his assistant.

"He came in for cough syrup, but I couldn't find any so I gave him an entire box of laxatives."

"You idiot" said the chemist, "You can't treat a cough with laxatives."

"Of course you can" the assistant replied, "Look at him he's not game to cough now!!"

ALWAYS WEAR UNDERWEAR

Always wear underpants in public, especially when working under your vehicle. From the local paper comes this story of a Brisbane couple who drove their car to the shopping centre, only to have their car break down in the car park. The man told his wife to carry on with the shopping while he fixed the car.

The wife returned later to find a small group of people near the car. On closer inspection, she saw a pair of hairy legs protruding out from under the chassis.

Unfortunately, the man was in shorts and his lack of underpants turned his private parts into glaringly obvious ones. Unable to stand the embarrassment she dutifully stepped forward, quickly put her hand up his shorts and tucked everything back into place.

On regaining her feet she looked across the bonnet and found herself staring at her husband, who was standing idly by watching.

The RACQ mechanic however had to have three stitches in his forehead.

MEDICAL ADVICE – THE FLU SEASON

To avoid catching the flu -

Make sure you get your daily dose of fruit and veggies.

Take your vitamins and bump up your vitamin C intake.

Get plenty of exercise because it builds your immune system.

Walk for at least an hour a day, go for a swim, and take the stairs instead of the lift. Wash your hands often. If you can't, keep a bottle of antibacterial stuff around.

Get lots of fresh air. Open doors and windows whenever possible.

Try to eliminate as much stress from your life as you can.

Get plenty of rest.

OR Watch what the doctor does.

When you go for a flu jab, what do they do first?

They clean your arm with alcohol... Why? Because alcohol KILLS GERMS.

So here's an alternative

Walk to the pub (exercise)

Put lime in your vodka.. . (fruit)

Put celery in your Bloody Mary (veggies)

Drink outdoors in the beer garden. (fresh air)

Tell jokes and laugh (eliminate stress), then pass out (rest)

It's really a simple strategy – if you can keep up your alcohol levels – the flu germs can't get you

AND REMEMBER:

'A shot in the glass is better than one in the a...!' (buttocks)
