

Irish Christmas tree

Paddy and O'Shaughnessy are wandering through the pine trees in December

They spend long hours there, seemingly looking at all the trees

As time goes by they argue more and more

Finally at sunset Paddy says to O'Shaughnessy

"Look, I don't care if the next one doesn't have any decorations, we're taking it home for Christmas"