

Four Parachutes

An aircraft is about to crash.

There are five passengers on board, but unfortunately only four parachutes.

The first passenger says, "I'm Shaquille O'Neill, the best NBA basketball player. The Lakers need me; it would be unfair to them if I died". So he takes the first parachute and jumps.

The second passenger, Hillary Clinton, says, "I am the wife of the former president of the United States. I am also the most dedicated woman in the world, a New York Senator, and one of America's potential future presidents." She takes one of the parachutes and jumps.

The third passenger, Donald Trump, says, "I am the President of the United States of America; I have a huge responsibility in world politics; and, apart from that, I am the most intelligent president in the history of the country. I have a responsibility to my people not to die." So he takes a parachute and jumps.

The fourth passenger, the Pope, says to the fifth passenger, a 10-year-old schoolboy, "I am already old; I have lived my life; I will give you the last parachute."

The boy replies, "No problem, your holiness, there is also a parachute for you. America's most intelligent President has just taken my schoolbag...!"
